Speed and range control are important in flat game warming. However, in shallow surf, it was necessary to wind quickly in order to lift it off the bottom. The 99 head has a cup-shaped front to generate lift, which improves bottom separation and makes it possible to wind more slowly. The effect is doubled when combined with the big tail flag shad that generates lift. By installing a center-of-gravity moving wire, the flight attitude is stable and a sufficient flight distance is secured.
