About size

Please select the size based on the size of your hand circumference

The hand circumference starts from the starting point of the life line, which is approximately the same position as the first joint of the thumb, and passes through the lower part of the three-part section between the base of the little finger and the wrist, and extends the hand. This is the length of one revolution expressed in centimeters. (Red line in the diagram on the left)

Based on ergonomics, it is designed with a curved shape to fit the finger in its most relaxed and natural state.

We have created a glove that reduces the wear and tear of grip strength when gripping the rod, making it less tiring even when fishing for long periods of time.

By eliminating the extra stiffness from the palm to the fingertips, you can clearly convey not only the feeling of casting but also delicate hits, making game fishing more comfortable while wearing gloves.

(1) Ergonomic three-dimensional curve

The curved shape is designed to fit the finger in its most relaxed and natural state. Reduces consumption of grip strength when gripping.

(2) Three-dimensional cutting that approximates the shape of a finger

The joints on the palm side of the fingers are cut into individual parts and sewn into three-dimensional shapes with the fingers bent. It is a precise and advanced technology that fits the hand and is easy to grip.

(3) Wrinkles and wrinkles are less likely to occur.

The shape is bent to fit your fingers from the beginning, so you can grip it accurately without wrinkles or twisting.

(4) Seams with emphasis on functionality

By designing the joint seams to fit between the fingers, we have achieved a smooth usability and comfortable grip.
